InnovoCommerce LLC announces the innovoPOINT™ clinical trial investigator portal solution built on the Microsoft® SharePoint® platform.

IRVINE, CA – Monday November 2, 2009 – InnovoCommerce, LLC has released the innovoPOINT™ investigator portal solution for life science organizations to streamline the communications and secure document exchange between sponsors and their CRO and investigator site partners. The innovoPOINT solution enables clinical sponsor organizations to use Microsoft SharePoint® to manage external information and document exchange for all clinical studies in a secure and compliant manner.

The market for investigator portal technology has evolved over the past several years. Life science organizations now can capitalize on advancements made with Microsoft SharePoint to enable secure and compliant investigator site collaboration. These organizations seek to leverage existing investments in Microsoft technologies and take advantage of the platform's familiarity and usability for greater sponsor and investigator site efficiencies.

"I spent over 15 years at one of the world's largest pharmaceutical companies managing study investigator relationships at a time when a solution like innovoPOINT did not exist to help augment investigator collaboration" noted Diane Nedelkoff, Director of Clinical and Investigator Portal Solutions for InnovoCommerce. "Pharmaceutical organizations need an economical and compelling technology to help investigator sites consume the right study information at the right time as well as manage regulatory documents to GcP standards, innovoPOINT is unparalleled in the industry in providing exactly this type of capability." according to Nedelkoff.

The innovoPOINT solution is configured, deployed and validated faster than any other solution on the market worldwide. If the solution is installed in a Life Science organization's existing SharePoint environment then InnovoCommerce provides turnkey validation services to apply GAMP 5 risk-based approaches to qualify the SharePoint environment as well as supply IQ and OQ documentation for solution validation. The innovoPOINT solution can also be installed, managed and validated in InnovoCommerce's partner network of SAS 70 type II, GXP complaint national data centers. The hosted option requires no hardware or Microsoft software purchases.
